Enhance Your Leadership Competency

AGB Search Executive Coaching Services can help you set yourself apart as a high-performing, empathetic, and resilient leader. With deep experience in higher education and a focus on shared governance, our executive coaches are well-versed in the qualities institutions are looking for in their administrative and academic teams.

AGB Search is committed to the principles of JDEI (justice, diversity, equity, and inclusion), and we are proud to offer executive coaching as an important strategy in cultivating a diverse workforce.

Executive Coaching for the Leader in You

AGB Search Executive Coaching Services provides customized, one-on-one coaching within an established framework focused on measurable progress. Our goal is to be your partner in building on the talent and strengths you already have to bring out the leader within you. The 6-month engagement entails:

- 30-minute consultation to discuss coaching needs
- Development of leadership goals and areas of focus
- Leadership assessment
- One-one-one meetings twice per month
- Guidance in developing individual action plans
- Periodic review and discussion regarding progress to goals
- Post-engagement assessment and option to continue coaching services

Who Can Benefit from Executive Coaching?

AGB Search Executive Coaching is an excellent opportunity for new and seasoned higher education leaders who are:

- Interested in enhancing their leadership skills
- Preparing to advance to the next level of leadership
- In a new or expanding leadership role
- Faced with challenging circumstances that need leadership support

Partner with Higher Education Experts

AGB Search's executive coaches have decades of experience in identifying and mentoring leaders at all levels.

Monica Burton

Principal, Coaching Team Lead

A career executive search professional, Monica has spent more than 20 years placing leaders in executive roles. She has worked across industries from investment banking to the nonprofit sector. Monica holds a certificate in Leadership Coaching from Georgetown University's Institute for Transformational Leadership and is certified in the Predictive Index assessment tool. She stands ready to partner with her clients in discovering and drawing out their leadership aptitudes through one-on-one leadership coaching sessions.

Fred Moore

Senior Executive Search Consultant

For over three decades, Fred Moore has devoted his life to mission-driven organizations aiming to improve the human condition. As a leadership coach, executive search consultant, and university president, as well as a nonprofit and public company board member, Fred has helped place and develop leadership talent that has enabled organizations to transform lives. Fred enjoyed a successful 22-year tenure as a university president and was named President Emeritus at the conclusion of his presidency.

Julie Staggs, Ed.D., MBA

Executive Search Consultant

Julie has 30 years' experience in higher education, having served in diverse roles including admissions, marketing, teaching, and as a Trustee. Julie is a skilled facilitator, speaker, and coach whose specialties include individual and team leadership assessment and development, executive communications, and executive assessment and coaching. Julie focuses on working with high-potential executives striving for greater impact and expanding their ability to influence the success of their organization.

The higher education landscape is evolving rapidly. Leaders must be agile and adaptable to succeed in this pressure-filled, highly competitive environment. While the demands can be challenging, they also create opportunities for career advancement and progression into new leadership roles.

"I was able to make progress towards my leadership goals. My first goals were focused on obtaining a new position but transitioned to focusing on my intrinsic leadership development."
